GIFTED AND TALENTED PROGRAMS

SAS at Hollywood High School

The School for Advanced Studies Program at Hollywood High School provides SAS students with the opportunity to take Advanced Studies (AS) classes which are designated “Honors”, as well as Advanced Placement (AP) classes for upper-level students or students who meet course prerequisite(s).

Advanced Studies classes are offered in a clustered format. This means that SAS students share common classes and allows for SAS teachers to collaborate on students progress and assignments.

Course Offerings depict a suggested Timeline. Hollywood High School Maintains flexibility in programming Students who meet course prerequisites. It is recommended that SAS students take Life Skills and Health during Summer Session.

What is a School for Advanced Studies

The Schools for Advanced Studies are programs designed throughout the District which have been implemented to improve educational options and increase professional training to support the development of gifted ad talented youth.

The Schools for Advanced Studies (SAS) Program offers an intensive academic articulated program in which both innovative and traditional courses are thought. The course content is modified to match the students’ achievement level and capacity for learning.
